The Baseball Hilltoppers are teaming up with Creighton Head Coach Ed Servais and his staff to offer three FREE clinics to youth baseball coaches in the Omaha area. Each clinic will stress the strong fundamentals and respect for the game that has helped Creighton become one of the premier Division I baseball programs in the Midwest.

The goal of the Baseball Hilltoppers and these clinics is to teach fundamentals and respect for the game of baseball to local youth coaches. These coaches can then teach their players to play the game of baseball the right way from a young age.

The clinics will consist of two hours of classroom-style education sandwiched around an hour of drill demonstration with Coach Servais and his staff. Each coach in attendance will also receive a copy of the Baseball Hilltoppers Coaching Manual. The information in the manual comes directly from the Creighton coaching staff and provides coaches with in-depth information on fundamentals and drills for their players.
